

Relationships are interesting. Musical relationships are even more interesting. Sometimes you encounter musicians that strive for the same things you strive for. When I encounter such an artist it's a wonderful thing.

Pauli is a special musician. Gifted and versatile. We played Jazz together when we were in our 20's. When we weren't playing, we were hanging out, asking each other the questions that young jazz musicians ask. He became my musical partner and my intellectual partner. Now, 30 years later, I am reunited with my partner, doing what we love. Jazz.

This record is all Pauli's arrangements and several of his original compositions, and it is a wonderful example of his prolific creativity. ENJOY.
